

The Weekly ReCAP

Week of April 7, 2024

CAP Mission: Transforming health through meaningful connections.

CAP Vision: To be the most innovative advanced practice center driving connections that elevate clinical practice, research, education, and leadership.

Hi APPs!

Thank you to everyone's hard work this week as we worked together to manage incredibly high patient volumes on top of survey visits. It can be challenging to manage these issues while also ensuring that our patients receive safe and excellent care. Your commitment to teamwork and our patients made all the difference as we navigated this.

I want to take a moment to recognize our APRNs that were nominated for the "Excellence in Advanced Practice Nursing" Award through the NPGO for the annual Nurses' Week Awards Ceremony. We had eight nominees from around the institution, and the winner of the award will be announced Wednesday, May 8th at the awards ceremony. Please join me in congratulating the following people on their nominations:

Jenna Ally, NP: GI oncology

Gina Haislip, NP: Inpatient ENT

(no picture available)

Krysti Homa, NP: GI and endoscopy

(no picture available)

Caroline Leslie, NP: PICU

(no picture available)

Amy Johnston, CNS: Neurosciences

Susan Ketcham, CNS: Peri-op services

Beth Jaeger-Landis, NP: Primary Care

Beth is also nominated for the School of Nursing Outstanding Preceptor Award!

Steven Wiseman, NP: NNICU/NIMU

Congrats to all of our nominees! Please also use this as a reminder to get your photos done (see final page for dates/times).

Have a great week!

Recognition Committee Corner

The work we do is often demanding and that leaves little time to connect with one another. We know these personal connections and enjoying lighter moments with one another contributes meaningfully to overall wellness. Therefore, we are inviting each of you to a get-together on Thursday May 30th at Random Row Brewing.

The social will be from 5:30PM-7:30PM and will provide us with the needed opportunity to unwind and catch up in a relaxed environment. We will be providing light snacks and a drink ticket to each guest.

We kindly request your RSVP by May 23rd. Please click on the google form link below to ensure there is enough accommodations for everyone.

Looking forward to seeing old and new friends for an evening of relaxation and fun!

A CALL TO ACTION TO CONTROL HYPERTENSION

WHAT WILL IT TAKE TO IMPROVE HEALTH OUTCOMES IN MEDICALLY UNDERSERVED COMMUNITIES?

Join us for an inspiring talk by Dr. Chastity Bradford, Department Head and Associate Professor at Tuskegee University, Alabama. With a passion for bridging the gap between science and society, Dr. Bradford extends their expertise beyond the laboratory, engaging in impactful community health education initiatives.

At the heart of Dr. Bradford's research lies a profound commitment to understanding and addressing the unique challenges faced by medically underserved communities. By identifying gaps and barriers in healthcare access and quality, their work aims to pave the way for sustainable interventions that significantly enhance cardiovascular healthcare outcomes.

Annual Evaluations

- ◆ Annual Evaluations are now open in Workday. Please go in and complete your self-evaluation by the due date of 4/30. If not completed, it will be automatically advanced to your manager with no opportunity to add in your own narrative.
- ◆ After your self-evaluation, your manager will complete their portion and schedule time to review your evaluation with you.
- ◆ As part of our Magnet requirements, everyone should complete 2 peer reviews per year. Please work with your manager on your team's process for completing this.
- ◆ Please ensure that you have included a personal development goal. This should be something measurable with specific metrics to determine whether you met or exceeded the goal. Metrics could be things like "meets if completed by May, exceeds if completed by March" or "meets if completes 1 project, exceeds if completes 2".
